

A Mother's Worth

Mother's Day 24 and a question comes to my mind.

What is a mother's worth?
So many feelings in your heart to find.
When she carried you and gave you birth

But it doesn't stop there and end.
Always thoughts of you wherever you were.
For the rest of her life, she would spend.
A special love, that never ever diminishes for her.

You will ever be her child whatever life may bring.
And though the years may age you so
To her you are always in her body which makes her heart sing
And her worries for you will never fade and go.

A special uniqueness in every way
Amongst nature's wonders is a mother's worth
It leaves me with so much love to say.
Nothing can replace it anywhere on this earth.
